juego de codificación

Are you tired of other board games and want to try something new that you can learn from and have fun?

Juego de codificación game is made for you!

Navigate your piece from start to finish and answer the questions.

Setup

Before the game can start, each player will roll the die, the player who throws the highest number will be the one to have the first turn.

Gameplay

The players will move their pieces from left to right, starting at 1, following the numbers on the board, then the next row from left to right and repeat. If a player rolls a 4, then the player would move their piece four places.

Ladders

When a player lands at the base of a ladder, it immediately climbs to the top of the ladder.

Whereas landing at the top of a ladder the player will move to the bottom of the ladder.

Questions

When player lands on a colored field, he has to click on the question button and answer the question he will get.

the player must give the correct answer to stay on his field.

Otherwise, if the player cannot answer the question, he must go back (2) field.

For example; you are on field(5) and did not give the correct answer, you have to go back to field (3).

Winning the Game

The first player that reaches the highest field on the board, 50, wins the game.

To win, the player will need to roll the exact number to get you to the last space. If the player rolls a higher number than needed to land exactly on 50, their piece does not move and remains there until their next turn, when they can roll again.
